In regard to the school at Aberdeen

Mr Stewart observes that in the begin-the attendance having dwindled to four.

at the end of which it was seriously intended to shut up the school. It so happened, however, that Mr Mathieson of the Police Force was then in charge of the Aberdeen Station, and seeing so many children doing nothing except getting into mischief, he remonstrated with their parents, and the consequence was that the numbers rose from 4 to 20.

As a final effort towards utilizing the school, an evening class was opened in the month of July for the benefit of the Chinese police and the workmen at the Aberdeen Docks. There were more applications for admission than the schoolroom could accommodate. The class at first numbered 34, and continued at nearly the same point for some months; but place to place of the scholars, and also on account of one of those outbreaks of escapes in autumn, the numbers declined rapidly during the last months of the year. There was reason to believe, moreover, that the master was far from blameless for the falling off, but how to find a better man is a very difficult problem. Taking the year as a whole, the results were not altogether unsatisfactory

The average monthly enrolment of the day and night schools together was 25, and the average daily attendance for the year was 17. Nevertheless, it is evident that the Aberdeen School has not yet overcome its difficulties; and its future history is altogether uncertain. In regard to the Grant-in-aid scheme. My

The Grant-in-Aid Scheme has now had a three years' trial, and the result is upon the whole satisfactory. With one exception both managers and masters have expressed their satisfaction with the scheme itself and with the working of it. St. Paul's College

School, St. Stephen's Church School at Sai

Ying Pun, and the Victoria Girls' School were added to the list during the last year,

St. Saviour's Day School was withdrawn,

This makes the present number of those schools eleven, and there are fresh applications for the current year. Experience has shown the necessity of one or two modifications of the original scheme. It is now evident that the values of the passes should be raised, and a proposal to that will also be proposed to pay for attendance.

satisfy the conductors of St. Saviour's Day

School, now St. Joseph's English School and induce them to reconsider their decision of declining to receive aid on the present

With reference to the results of the examination it seems that 390 scholars were presented and 300 passed; in other words, the passes amounted to 77 per

The School Book Committee's books are now read in all the schools in the Colony over Which there is Government supervision. The subject matter of these books, though very familiar to Europeans, was entirely new to the masters, who, if left to themselves, would not have taken the trouble to familiarise themselves with the contents of the books, but steady pressure from all who were in charge of the schools brought about a change of attitude. When the masters understood that they had to teach from them,

HONGRONG, MONDAY, MARCH 12, 1877.

THE Government Gazette of Saturday contains the annual report by Mr Stewart on the various schools under government supervision in Hongkong. We content ourselves with a resumé of the report, because a great portion of it devoted to details and matters, which, although doubtless very interesting to those connected with the work of education in the Colony, yet are scarcely entertaining enough to the general reader for reproduction in a newspaper. is pleasing to find in the first place from this report that there was an increase in the attendance at all the schools of 12 per cent. There was also an increase in the number of girls at the various schools of no less than 27 per cent. As a modification of the plan was adopted in the case of village schools. The Victoria Schools are also two in nums ber. The Boys' School stands 19 per cent. amounted to this that at the end of the higher than it did in 1870. The discipling year the schools were to be divided into of the school is hardly strict enough, but three plasses, very good, good and fair this reference to it will doubtless bring about that masters whose schools were in the the necessary change. It may be remarked first rank would receive a bonus of $25 in passing that in the majority of these each i those of the second 818 | those of achoels this subject needs greater attention the third nil ; and all below the third for it includes not merely order and regularity, but habits of strict honesty when were to be recommended for dismissal under examination. The Girle School is in a highly satisfactory condition. Although only in its first west examination day so numerous, and that acholais were presented in all the standards the amount and citality of the work done except the sixth, and all were fit for the standards in which they were placed. Every were placed in the first rank, nine in the subject was thoroughly taught; as the high second, and the remaining fifteen in the percentage of passes will prove. The dis-

St. Paul's College School is the third of the new schools which came under the scheme during the year. It was attended by 102 scholars, and the average daily attendance The teaching power is strong, there being a European master and two Chinese assistants for the three classes into which the scholars are divided. The class-rooms are spacious and well ventilated. The school materials are good and sufficient. The discipline is good. Great proficiency was shown in all the subjects that were undertaken. If nothing unforeseen occurs, there is a successful future in store for this school. In the Basel Mission Girls' School there was falling off amounting to 10 per cent This was due to the greater number of presentations in the two highest standards. It was in these alone that any weakness was shown. The others were well up to the previous mark. The London Mission Schools were particularly unfortunate, and the cause was clearly ambition overleaping itself. The masters are energetic, intelligent men; but they allowed themselves to be allured, it is to be feared, by the pecuniary advantages which the higher standards offer. This was not so conspicuous at the T'si-p'ing Shan school, which has risen one per cent., but as it had a long leeway to make up, on account of the former teacher's neglect, this is not so satisfactory as it would otherwise have been. The Wan-tsai school fell from 88 to 59 per cent. No scholars were entered in the first standard, and only three in the third. The rest were distributed among the second, fifth, and sixth; and of the 16 presented in the fifth standard no fewer than 12 failed. In addition to this error of judgment, the master made a mistake as to the amount of work he had to do, and in certain cases attempted to do just double what was required of him. The result could hardly have been otherwise than it proved. Perhaps the worst effect has been the resignation of the master, who lost heart and gave up his post. Although the examiner could not transgress the bounds prescribed to him, the manager would have been able to make al lowance for failings which leaned to the side of duty. The same energy properly directed would, on another trial, have regained all that had been lost, and future success would have blunted the sting of last year's mis-

GAOL ADMINISTRATION. THE Government Gazette of Saturday contains a report from the Gaol Committee cent. This is lower than the average appointed by His Excellency the Adminisreached in England, but not lower per- trator in October 1875, to consider the haps than the special circumstances will subject of gaol administration in the Colony, together with a copy of the Regulations and Dietary Scale, which have been revised corrected and finally approved by His Excellency, the Administrator, in Council. The report is dated April 21st 1876, and we are unable to say why it makes its appearance nearly a year later. It is prefaced with the following general remarks:-

The principles on which the Gaol system in England as well as in the Colonies ough to be carried on are now so well ascertained. and have received such high sanction, that it only remains to accept them and apply them to each particular Gaol, as far as local coming, and the books are now read side circumstances permit.

It is now settled beyond the reach of by side with the Chinese classics and no controversy, that the primary object of objection offered. Mr Stewart makes punishment is to d ter from crime, and that the following among other remarks reevery other idea must be subsidiary to it. specting the individual merits of the Important as the mental and moral training of oriminals may be, and satisfactory as it may be to make a prison self supporting The Baxter Schools for Chinese Girls are employing prisoners in remunerative advancing steadily both in numbers and in abour, these objec's must be considered o efficiency. School, which is all that could be desired as tolerable and less deterrent." Owing to the peculiar circumstances of this Colony, and the fact that by far the larger proportion of the criminals confined in the Gaol are Chinese, whose language is but little known to those who have charge of them, whose characters and dispositions are imperfectly understood, and of whose previous history and lives it is almost impossible to obtain any knowledge, any attempt to cultivate their higher faculties of 12 per cent, in the number of passes was | and to improve their moral oundition seems

The Vitropean prisoners undergoing long and also to his undervaluing the effect of sentences are very few, the larger portion under what may be termed moderate sen tences for breaches of Military and Naval discipline, and there is not time enough to give room for hope that permanent impressions can be produced by teaching and moral discipline.

The only resource is to make the life of prisoners in Gaol, and of Chinese prisoners especially, as distanteful as it can possibly be made, odusistently with reason and humanity, by hard labour, hard fare, and strict physical discipline

In the course of their investigations the Committee have formed the opinion that Chinese prisoners on long sentences have been fed on a scale of diet which must be a positive inducement to the majority of them to return to Gaol, so superior is it, both in quantity and quality, to the fare which the free labourer earning bondet wages can commandi

As to European prisoners, the majority of the Committee are of opinion, that the distary has been too high in some respects. In this opinion Mr Tonnochy, who has had great experience in the results of the management of the Gaol, does not concur, and it is right to state that the Medica Officer agrees with bim.

In the suggestions drawn up for the use of His Excellency the Governor in Council, which follow, the Committee have tried to moza last list were very poor in many ways, the scholars were especially noted as worthy remody serious faults in the system, and have sought to discover what is the minimum of daily food on which a prisoner can perform the maximum of daily labour.

The recommendations made by the Committee, after very careful enquiry, might, it is suggested, be tried experimentally, under the close supervision of the Medical Officer and the Visiting Justices, before they are finally adopted.

Wz were somewhat in error, it appears, in our statement that, the two opposing steamer interests on the Canton River had been guilty of any action in comm n as regards the fares for natives. The ridiculously low fares hitherto charged for Chinese passengers have been raised by the agents of the Ichang, but the reduced rate still obtains on board the Company's steamers. It was currently reported amongst the Chinese that the change was the result of a mutual understanding; but we have since learnt that the Company declines to come to any arrangement with the opposition. It is just possible that the Directors may be right in their decision, though the ten cent rate is objectionable upon other than merely fiscal grounds.

higher now in the Colony than it has been hitherto. The reason given is that smug gling in this article has been looked after with greater vigilance. From what we can learn, the amugglers took suventage of the period at which the Chinese officials plosed their scale of office, during the New Year holidays, and managed to slear a profit o some $10,000 out of a capital of about $3,000@ There is no doubt that a great deal of amugaling is going on, an the Salt Commissioner has built specia cruisers to put it down. The Chu Tung, commanded by Admiral Li, is on of these craft. He has succeeded capturing several smugglers, but liberate them all on their promising to "sin n more." The salt seized, however, we pair of large goggles. These were Chujens from Canton who were here en route to Peking to pass their triennial examination for the Tsin-sz degree. A steamer of Mesars Siemssen's line or of the C. M. S. N. Co.'s line had not been put on the berth for some time, and a demand for steam accommodation was aroused among these literati, and a sagacious Chinese boarding-house keeper has made a good thing out of it. He foresaw this demand and managed to secure all the berths available for Chinese in the last French mail up to the North. He paid $7 for each of them, but received something like $20 from these aspirant candidates for a single bunk.

WE believe Messrs Skinner's new steamer the Loudoun Castle, now en route to China, will come fully up to the expectations of her builders and owners, to judge by her behaviour during the outward trip, and that she will make a much faster passage between Shanghai and London than has ever yet been accomplished. We learn by telegraph that she had arrived at Singapore on Saturday last, having covered the distance from Suez to that port in 17 days. may be expected to arrive here on the 19th, having left Singapore to-day. This would bring her passage to Hongkong considerably under 40 days, including stoppages.

A REPORT reaches us from Macao that on the night of the 8th instant, a daring attack was made by robbers on a family in one of much likes dat Fankwei Mandalin. the outlying districts. The villagers turned out to meet the robbers but were repelled, three persons being killed on the spot and several wounded. The house was then ransacked and everything portable and of value was carried away. A neighbouring village heard the alarm and also turned out, but the robbers had by that time decamped. A young son of the family attacked ran a narrow escape from being carried away; he was covered up with blanket and placed in the fowl roost. This deceived the burglars.

We mentioned last Saturday that the native dealers in Cotton and Cotton Yarn had resolved to suspend their tradal operations here unless the Banks were willing to accept broken money. On enquiry we find that the immediate cause for this resolution is that bank-notes are at a high premium just now—as high, we believe, as $13 per mille. The premium has gradually risen since the Chinese New Year, until it stood at $12 on Saturday, $121 yesterday and $13 to-day per mille. What it may be to-morrow, we will not take upon ourselves to say, but the native dealers have, according to their piece into the shop through a hole in the Ideas, some cause for complaint. They assert that when silver is paid into the Banks, the manipulation of the scales at the Banks invariably brings them in losers in weight unless they tender clean dollars, and as clean dollars are a scarce commodity, it naturally follows that bank-notes shouldbe at a premium. We are not in a position to say whether or not the assertion of the natives is strictly true. But though this is a subject which perhaps does not affect the tradal prosperity of the Colony quite so much as the Blockade question, still it behoves the Bank Managers to institute some sort of enquiry into the matter.

WE learn from Hoihow that the Revenue Cruiser Fe:hoo (Capt. Cocker) left that port for Pakhoi on the evening of the 9th. having on board Mr McKean (the Commissioner appointed to the new port), for the purpose of establishing the Foreign Customs Office there. Mr Stuhlmann succeeds Mr McKean, and is now in charge at Holhow. The Beihop, it appears, had the good fortune to save the lives of two Chinese junk. men on her passage down to Holhow from this port. When between Nowchow and Hollow, the two castaways were found clinging to a swamped junk which had capsized some nine hours previously, the rest of the crew having been drowned. The two poor fellows were taken on board, and having been fed, rigged up in dry clothes, and provided with a few dollars each, were landed at Holbow-quite ready, we expect to be capsized and picked up regularly once a-week on the same favourable terms. Captain Cooker has been deputed to survey Pakhoi and its neighbourhood, and the Feihoo will not therefore return to this port until about the middle of April. The port, ws understand, will be formally opened on the 1st proximo.

MISSIONS IN CHINA. THE CHINESE QUESTION FROM A CATHOLIC STANDPOINT.

The Rev. Father Matigney, Assistant Pastor of St. Francis' Church, delivered a lecture last evening to members of his congregation, entitled "Missions and Missionarles in China." He prefaced has discourse by giving the view on the Chinese question entertained by the Roman Catholic Church, which was that the directions of Jesus Christ were that the Gospel should be preached to all nations. In obedience to this command, missionaries were to be found in all parts of the world, no matter whether populated by tribes deep in ignorance, or by people high in the scale of civilization. The Apostles did not restrict their preaching to the towers of Judea, but went forth to all parts of the globe, even to China and Persia, where monuments still stood indicating their presence in the early Christian era.

The reverend lecturer then explained that he had spent four years in Chiua as missionary of the Catholic Church, but was compelled to seek other fields on account of He stated that the object delivering the lecture was to obtain funds for the Catholic Mission at Hongkong. synopsis of his discourse is given. Chinese are a curious people. There are some good points in them as well as some thing inexplicable in their habits. are capable to perform anything ; even to the most elaborate work of the fine arts. Their patience is to be admired. Those who accuse them of being addicted to opium smoking, immorality, cruelty, etc., are not far from the truth. In a people who shape their course in life by the proximity of the mighty dollar there is little room for any display of generosity or other virtues Notwithstanding the fattits we perceive the Chinese to possess | notwithstanding any natural abhorrence we may have, we must acknowledge that they have a soul like our own. This is the Catholic view of the question. We should remember what the Roman Empire, France, Spain, Ireland were before the missionaries or apostles preached the doctrines of the Gospel there. If the moral elevation of the Chinese people is inferior to our own, it must be ascribed The other members will, of course, think to their deprivation of the light of the point of numbers and attracted the atten-Always swear at the Waiters. They consider that any science introduced by foreigners is something use-In some parts of China missionary work is almost without effect, while in others I have seen as many as five thousand converted in a few months.

In tegate to the Chinese population of performed some good work toward Christianting them ! They would become before members of society more useful to the community | would inturmingle with other people, and abolish that hatred which controls them. I will state that as soon as came here, the first work assigned to was missionary work among the Ohinese this city. The Architehop was sleet to have a Christian education, free, to hundreds of these Chinese. He placed a building, back of St. Mary's Cathedral, on Dupont street, to which was added a Chapel. At one time we had a class of forty Chinese. When the time came, and we wanted them to go to their duty, and practise the Christian teachings which they had learned, only three or four responded, and the balance remained silent, or went away, although they had professed themselves Christians. As soon be gained, they left off. The Catholic missionaries in Canton have erected buildings which, if constructed here, would cost verts in that great city of a million and a half of inhabitants. The Chinese are absorbed in their material interests. Their thoughts are concentrated in the great business of money getting. The existence SALTPETRE, of the soul is to them a strange thing.

If I were a rich man, and should go to a Methodist Mission and offer ten cents for each man who would come to the Catholic church to night, they would all come. ance, and you'll soon be a Committee man another rich man were to come to my church and offer them twenty cents apiece to leave me and go to another church, Pocket the Club stationery. It is far they would accept his offer. "Probably there is no instance in which any two lovers made love in exactly the same way as any two other lovers, since the world began."-Arthur Helps. Barkis insinuated.

Vivien charmed Merlin. Alexander made a bonfire for Thais. Hildegarde took the bull by the horns. The Merchant of Venice soft-soldered Portia with a lead casket.

The garrulous female in the "Arabian Nights" told her husband stories. Victoria sent for Prince Albert and told him she wanted him. She was victorious.

In the Polynesian Islands they win their hearts by beating their heads with a shillelah. Harry the Eighth and Bluebeard were off with the head of the old love before they were on with the new.

Johnson poked the tobacco in his pipe down with his sweetheart's finger—a warm token of his affection. Tristram did it mostly with a harp, and was also a good liar. His two Isoldes were too many for him. Bothwell was inclined to Marie, and locked her up in his castle. It worked as well as Peter's pumpkin shell.

Cobbett's wife caught him by the grace with which she used her wash-tub. She was never known to use it after the wedding. Miles-Standish deputed an agent whom he considered fitter to plead his suit with his lady-love; the agent did it but too well, but Miscellaneous.

There is a gentleman in this city who has acquired the habit of going to a fruitstand, and, after pricing the melons, &c., and eating up about five cents' worth of peanuts objects to the price and does not buy. Yesterday the fruitman made up his mind to sell him something, anyhow. 'How much are these melons?" inquired the peanut fiend. "Five cents each." " Can I pick my melon?" " Take the biggest you can find." "Let me plug 'em to find a ripe one?" "Here's a knife; split 'em wide open." "Don't you throw in a banana?" "Always." "Whew! If I had any way to get the melon home I believe I'd invest." "Just say the word and I'll send you both home in a new hack, and give you 90 days to pay for the melon.' " Melons are going to be cheaper after while, but if the chromo suits I'll take the melon. No colic in it, is there? Let me see the chromo." "What chromo? "Why, you ought to be able to throw in a chromo if you mean business. I always get a chrome for a cash transaction like day (February 17, 1874) the Chinese Mail will be issued DAILY instead of TRI WEEKLY as heretofore. No change, however, will be made in the price of subscription, which will remain at $4 per annum. The charges for advertisements are nov assimilated to those of the China Mail. The unusual success which has attended the Chinese Mail makes it an admirable medium for advertisers. The Conductors guarantee an eventual circulation of one thousand copies. already the most influential native journa published, and enjoys considerable prestige at the Ports of China and Japan, and at Singapore, Penang, Calcutta, San Francisoo and Australia. For terms, &c., address
